

I pay to subscribe to satellite radio in order to avoid such things as political commentary, solicitous commercials, talky djs, and regurgitated music. I pay to have my radio the way I want it, and be able to choose my own music and news channels. Useful stations that provide traffic and weather updates are necessary, and to deny a subscriber this pertinent information in the name of commercialism is selfish and stodgy. Thanks.